We all admire a man who says what he thinks—as long as he says it about other people.

Remember Pearl Harbor!

To the extent that the people of these United States are faithless to their task of expressing Individualism, represented by the Christ who obeys God only, they are worshipping the $ and are ruled by its creator: The merciless Jew, typical of Henry Morgenthau.

The trouble with our American "melting pot" is that all the scum rises to the top.

Morgenthau or Christ?

By Rev. F. R. RIEDEL

A Hard or Christian Peace? America apparently is divided into 2 or 3 groups: No. 1. The very large number of people who are not in the least concerned about any kind of a peace as long as they have enough to eat and drink, and as long as they get along well and prosper. They are like the characters in the parable, who passed by on the other side. They excuse their selfishness, stating that it is the fellow's own fault that he fell among the thieves. As one of the secretaries to one of our senators said, "It is their own fault. They got what they wanted." I say that is not the fault of the average citizens that we have wars. In the late 1930's it was estimated that a very high percentage of the American people were against war and even a few months before war broke out, if the question of peace and war had been submitted to a referendum, the decision would have been overwhelmingly against war. We have a right to assume that to some extent this same condition existed in the Axis nations. Surely, nowhere could the fathers and mothers be for war. A war hysteria had to be created in every country before the politicians could declare war. It is the politician, too, who 9 months after hostilities have ceased, is prolonging a state of war.

No. 2. We have another class of people who are, in all sincerity, hoping and praying for a just and a lasting peace. This class, although substantial in size, seems to be losing its voice, or failing to make its voice heard and its influence felt. Many of the people are convinced of their inability to put their ideas and convictions across. They have met time and again the adamant attitude of the government to reason, and the government lack of clear, definite foreign policy. These good people somehow hope that some kind of a peace will come and that the unfortunate will get a decent deal. They have the ideal of "fair play," always characteristic of America, in mind. They fail to take into consideration that we are a party to the massacre of millions of people by the weapon (conceived in peace time) of the slow process of mass starvation.

No. 3. Third class are for a hard peace. They are headed by Mr. Morgenthau Jr. This group, contrary to their thinking, are by far the smaller of the 3 groups. But they are powerful and are using all the means at their command to confuse and bewilder the people about the real issue at stake.

Do we want peace or a continuation of the state of war? The latter will give us the better chance to mete out vengeance against a conquered foe, keeping them for generations in a state of want and starvation. We are daily given a fare of atrocities that are constantly repeated so that we must not forget. Atrocities have been committed. War itself is the biggest atrocity of all. It is inconceivable that an army of 10,000,000 soldiers of any nation would all be punished. But there were crimes committed on both sides. At the beginning of the war we were told of the atrocities of the Japs. Everyone concerned breathed a sigh of relief when his boy was sent to the European theater of war instead of the Asiatic. But all of a sudden everything is changed. The European theater seems to have been the most dangerous although at first we were led to believe the opposite. Isn't this paradoxical, to say the least?

Dr. Barstow of World Council of Churches writes in "The Christian Century" that the churches of America (Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew) have appealed to the government to open the mails to permit church and benevolent organizations to send parcels of food and clothing into Germany. Every appeal has been turned down.

England has opened the mails and the British people who suffered intensely, are sending food into the zone of occupation and they don't have any too much themselves, for they are still practicing rationing.

Many of the churches are ready to send help to save the lives of millions of children the minute the government will stop this inhuman torture of millions. Millions of Americans are daily praying and hoping for the chance to contact friends and dear ones to share with them a crust of bread. Is there still a spark of the milk of human kindness left within your soul, reader? Then write to your senator, your congressman, the President and declare your stand for an end of the state of war, opening of all mail service, and return of our American Soldiers to their homes.

The responsibility for the Potsdam Treaty belongs to President Truman, but the consequences of Potsdam belong to all of us. The President is committed, but the President can change his mind. The churches must help him change it before it is too late.

ARMY DENIES IT PLANS TO LIBERATE FRITZ KUHN

FRANKFURT, Germany.—A United States army intelligence section spokesman said the army has no plans to release Fritz Kuhn, deported former leader of the German-American bund. He said Kuhn's possible affiliations with the nazi-party were being investigated. Kuhn is being held in an internment camp near Heidelberg on a security basis.

Atrocities of Our Own

By CLIFTON ANDERSON in The Progressive

Hair-raising stories of sordid atrocities committed by American military police under orders from high-ranking officers are now being revealed by a U. S. Army court-martial in London. Prosecution lawyers, cutting thru a maze of perjury, have established that the accused—nine enlisted men and two officers who were in charge of the guardhouse at the Lichfield, England, replacement depot during the Winter of 1945—subjected U. S. troops to a Gestapo-like reign of terror.

The victims were not criminals. Their offenses ranged upward from charges of being a few minutes late in returning from leave. Of the depot's customary quota of 2,000 to 3,000 transitory members, it is significant that 800 or 900 were usually held in the prison. There they were tormented by cruel guards, many of whom were medically known psychopathic cases.

Free to satisfy their sadistic impulses, the guards beat the men with clubs and rifle butts, imposed other barbarous punishment forbidden by Army regulations, and shot at any who came near the windows. The prisoners were forced to do calisthenics seven hours a day—and occasionally at night. Combat veterans who were unable to stand this ordeal were ordered to stand for hours with their toes and noses against a brick wall.

Who is guilty of the Lichfield atrocities? As Milton Mayer points out, under the doctrine of command responsibility established in the Yamashita case, Gen. Eisenhower is responsible. But, if he lacked knowledge of the bestial condition at the camp, blaming him would be as unjust as the conviction of Yamashita for war crimes of which he was ignorant.

That the nine guards now on trial for "cruel and inhuman punishment" were not only encouraged but actually ordered by their superiors to "work over" prisoners is revealed by the testimony of one of them, Sgt. J. H. Smith. He declared that two other defendants, Maj. R. E. Lobo and Lt. Granville Cubage, "repeatedly warned" him "that the guardhouse was not tough enough." These officers, in turn, shift the blame to Col. James Kilian, who was awarded the Legion of Merit for his achievements as commander of the depot before its infamous conditions were exposed, and recommended for promotion by the War Department after the sordid story became known.

Col. Kilian, Cubage testified, sanctioned the use of violence, but added the admonition, "Just don't break too many bones." Whether the chain of conspiracy stops at Kilian or is linked to other high-ranking officers is not clear, as he has steadfastly denied that atrocities were committed at Lichfield. Both Cubage and Lobo, however, swear that Kilian ordered them to perjure themselves.

Threatening with "fixing" if they did not comply, the officers admit "coaching" the enlisted men on what to say in court, ordering them to give false testimony to investigating officers who visited the depot, and "hiding" from the investigators prisoners who bore marks of violence.

While Kilian's reticence has prevented the present investigation from implicating any "big brass," there are indications that officers outside the camp knew about and were not dismayed by its disgraceful policies. A ground forces general, for example, visited the guardhouse in 1945 and is reliably quoted as telling the sergeant in charge: "You're not tough enough here, sergeant—you're running a hotel."

Military justice, of which the Supreme Court had such a high opinion that it ruled in the Yamashita case there can be no appeal from its decisions, has been impeded by what is described on the Lichfield court record as the "greatest mass perjury in the U. S. Army's history."

Who ordered the American guards at Lichfield to use tactics rivalling in horror and degradation those practiced by the Nazis at Buchenwald and Dachau? And why? Was it part of Army policy to make replacement depots so intolerable that soldiers would plead for combat duty?

One wounded veteran died at Lichfield "from massive hemorrhage, possibly caused by having his head rammed against a wall." Hundreds more suffered irreparable physical and mental deterioration. This tragic toll can never be rectified. But only after truth has been established and the guilty punished can we with clean hands punish the war criminals of our former enemies.

Tyler Kent vs. Winston Churchill

Dear C. Leon de Aryan:

For inclosed $1.00 please send copies of Feb. 11, 1946 "The Broom" and 2 copies Feb. 4, 1946.

Read with interest your editorial on "Tyler Kent and Freedom of Speech" mentioning he should speak regardless of the opposition to stop him.

You may wish to mention in "The Broom" (60 page) book "The Case of Tyler Kent" single copy 50c, 5 copies $2.00, 12 copies $4.00, 25 copies $7.50. From: Earl Southard, P. O. Box 347, Old P. O. Building, Chicago, Ill.

Winston Churchill's revolting concept of British honor directly appears from his later book "A Roving Commission," in which, in relating his experiences in India, he says: "Sir Bindon (Blood) sent orders that we were to stay in the Mamund valley and lay it waste with fire and sword in vengeance. This accordingly we did, but with great precautions. We proceeded systematically, village by village, and we destroyed the houses, filled up the wells, blew down the towers, cut down the great shady trees, burned the crops and broke the reservoirs in primitive devastation. . . . At the end of a fortnight the valley was a desert and honor was satisfied." (Page 147).

Why should Churchill be allowed in U. S. A. considering the above?

Taxpayers in no nation want war.

Was glad to read Mrs. Catherine V. Brown's (Nat'l Blue Star Mothers of America, Organizer) letter in "The Broom."

The San Francisco Charter "with its mercy-seat in Potsdam," the Dumbarton Oaks blind alley, the Bretton Woods financial conjugal, permitting a Morgenthau Union (left-handed marriage) to the Ghost of foreign nations, is creating a false image; perhaps due to some defect in a lense, thereby curtailing the mental activities of our reforming and Peace-loving strategists. Those Peace-loving war-mongers with their Brass-hat accomplices are afflicted with an irresistible demand for action; to satisfy their monstrosity, they demand to hang and punish all those who differ "in their" method of killing.

Eye-openers avail themselves after the harm is done.

Oh Pearl! whom did you Harbor? Say! question is up to the Barbar.

War Criminal Marshall Plotted Pearl Harbor Disaster With FDR

WASHINGTON.—Testimony before the congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor disaster brought out the following facts about the knowledge of Japanese moves.

December 6 the Japs sent to their Washington envoys a message breaking relations with us. It was actually delivered by them to Hull on Sunday as the bombs fell.

The Army and Navy intercepted that note Saturday and by 8 p. m. had translated 13 parts of it.

A 14th part was yet to come.

Colonel Bratton delivered a copy to Hull. Captain Kramer of the Navy delivered a copy to Roosevelt. He had three others which he showed to Knox and others but which he returned to a locked vault in his office.

Saturday night there were two copies outside the War and Navy Departments—one in the hands of Roosevelt and one in the hands of Hull.

Sunday morning at 8 the 14th part came in. Kramer took a copy to the White House at 9:30 and one to Knox at Hull's office at 10.

There were then three copies out. One of 13 parts with Hull; one of 14 parts with Roosevelt, and one of 14 parts with Knox.

General Marshall had disappeared from the scene the night before at 5 P. M. and was not seen by anyone until Sunday morning at 11:25 in his office—gone while the blow was cooking in Asia.

MARSHALL CAUGHT REDHANDED

Bratton went to Marshall's office at 11:25, just after he got there, to deliver to him his copy of 14 parts. To his amazement, he found Marshall reading a complete copy of the whole 14-part note.

Where did he get it? Certainly not from Knox, who would not send his copy to the Army head rather than Admiral Stark.

The only copy out was the one in the White House. Did Marshall go to the White House?

This is just one more fact which indicates that Roosevelt, Marshall, Stark and others were in conference during these hours somehow and somewhere.

FDR AND CHURCHILL HAD THEIR WISH

That explains, then, why Marshall did not phone a warning to Gen. Short at Pearl Harbor. One must understand the psychology of the military mind.

To Marshall war is a natural process and to kill and maim and conquer people into slavery is a matter of course. His heart does no more rebel against it than the butcher's who slaughters the calves and lambs. His glory is in war. So he plotted war. The great "trick" he, FDR, Churchill and the camarilla had to pull, was to get the "fool people" who were 80 per cent against war, to accept it as a "patriotic" duty. Hence all these war criminals, Bernard Baruch and Sam I. Rosenman included, had to see to it that the Japanese "make a mistake." Our war criminals figured out the "mistake" and saw to it that nothing interfered.

And in this fashion the USA fought War II. It gave the Rothschild and Co. Allies control of Japan, half of China and all of the world outside of Russia. That is what the purpose of the war was and is. Now Russia is being groomed for the slaughter. And Russia, too, will make the "mistake" of attacking the USA first and invade it as Japan did in the Pacific, Philippines, etc.

But,—this time, it spells the end of Rothschild and Co. The American people are suckers; they accepted War I and II, but with War III they arise and free themselves from the Octopus, the International Sanhedrin.

Labor Thugs Throw Stench Bombs

RESIDENCES OF EMPLOYEES VIOLATED

Nine residences of supervisors, foremen and others employed by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. of San Diego were crashed by flying rocks thru the windows to which crude stink-fluid bottles had been attached. This is the reply of the Machinists Union thugs to the court battle now going on in superior court for an injunction to restrict the number of pickets at Convair.

When labor thugs cannot confine their squabble to their illegal terror methods of picketing a plant en masse and bodily prevent thru force of numbers the entry into the plant but extend the field of their operations to the homes of their opponents, it becomes evident that there never was a labor dispute in the first instance but a case of yielding to violence and intrusion of labor racketeers in the affairs of both employees and employers. Modern labor unions, as exemplified by the Machinists Union, are not organizations for the benefit of the mass of its membership but a criminal racket by which the membership are reduced to slavery within and outside the union. The members are not permitted to think out loud, say what they really want, protect their own interests, but must submit to the dictatorship of the thug and thugs who are running the racket.

When a "dispute" is in the hands of the courts, then, to "speed up" decisions in their favor, the thugs resort to violence in expectation that this would cause a withdrawal of the case from the forum of the courts and produce abject surrender for fear of further reprisals upon the persons and property of individual opponents. Such incidents demonstrate why we have always denounced the labor union racket as a criminal racket to which no self-respecting man or woman would submit in the first instance.

As long as the members of labor unions have no power to run their own unions, naturally, they are paying out their money to criminals who work against the best interests of the membership and society as a whole.

Is Hackenburg A New York "Eicher"? He 'Hills' Klein

Special Sessions Judge Shows Bias Against 3 Christian Defendants and Tyranny to Attorney Klein

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (Special).—The antics of special sessions judge Frederick L. Hackenburg in the case of the three Christians, Maertz, Mertig and Elmhurst, undergoing persecution at the hands of the Veteran Jew, Isadore Ginsberg, raises the question as to how best the indignant citizens can remove biased judges from the bench.

Hackenburg was not on the three-judge court that tried the three Christians for alleged "unlawful assembly," on arrest and complaint of Ginsberg, but "Hack" tried to hog the court when the three came up for sentencing on the fourteenth, in Long Island City.

Although the other judges, Justice George B. DeLuca and Miles A. Page, outvoted and vetoed Hackenburg's harshness, he vented his spleen, bias and hate upon Henry H. Klein, the famous "sedition" attorney and author who appeared for the first time as the new lawyer for Messrs. Mertig and Elmhurst.

Presiding Justice DeLuca promptly voted to accede to Mr. Klein's request for a two week's postponement to enable motions to be prepared as did Justice Page. But Judge Hackenburg appeared obstructive. Said he—

"I was not consulted about these arrangements. . . . These delaying tactics and constant substituting of counsel are just being used for propaganda purposes, to let these men be built up as martyrs. . . . I will vote to adjourn sentence to Feb. 28, but also vote that the bail of the defendants be revoked and they be remanded to jail during the adjournment."

The Bolshevik paper "PM" said that Judge Hackenburg "fairly leaped from his chair. His eyes blazing, he ran his hand through an unruly mop of jet black hair" and cried out as quoted above.

When the two impartial judges voted down Hackenburg, Attorney Klein arose and said, "I would like to correct Mr. Hackenburg," (whom he had known for many years before the judge ascended to the bench).

According to "PM" "Hackenburg went white. 'Mr. JUSTICE Hackenburg,' he told Klein sternly, 'does not wish to be corrected. Mr. Klein step aside. This matter is disposed of.' Then he added, 'And get out!'"

Klein left the court room, and in the corridor outside was asked by reporters what his interest was in the case.

"I intend to wake up the Jewish people to what has happened to them in the past 25 years. I know it is a handful of phony Jews who are out to get all they can. There is a plot in this case, to ruin my client, Sanctuary, because Sanctuary's pamphlet, 'The Talmud Unmasked,' is being printed by Maertz."

A spectator in the court was the Greek-Armenian, Avedis Boghos Akhassian, officially down as Arthur Drounion, who helped get the subversive book, "Under Cover," via the pen name John Roy Carlson. Klein, seeing the Armenian, had a few sharp words for him and he skulked away.

JEWS PLEASED OVER "UNO"

New York's Jewish newspapers are jubilant over the decision of the "UNO" to locate permanently in a suburb of New York (where it can be high pressured by every foreign group making New York its headquarters).

ROOSEVELT TAX DODGING

Lawyers for President Roosevelt's heirs are trying to dodge the New York state income tax on the ground that he was entitled to the privileges of a soldier. New York law relieves the estate of a member of the army or navy from paying income tax for the year in which he died. The Roosevelt lawyers assert that the late President was entitled to this exemption because the Constitution made him commander in chief of the army and navy.

James Byrnes is ambitious to become President of the United States. It is believed that his appeasement of Stalin and the Moscow politicians in the recent conference at Moscow was a gesture to win the support of Sidney Hillman and certain left wing elements in America. The American Communist Party is highly pleased with the way Mr. Byrnes appeased the Soviet Union. The recent conference is being referred to in Washington as the "Moscow Munich." Truman has been asked to resign by the camarilla.

Chicago Tribune Jew-controlled

CHICAGO.—There is an interesting side-light on the recent riot here when a mob of several thousand Jews and Communists attacked a meeting of Gerald Smith, Father Terminiello and others. In the first account of the meeting in an early edition, the Tribune identified the following participants: "Jewish War Veterans of America, Civil Liberty League, American Youth for Democracy, Socialist Party, Socialist Study Club of the Univ. of Chicago, B'nai B'rith and many CIO Unions."

In later editions this was deleted and there was no identification of participants. This is in accordance with the highly-systematized Jewish strategy of insinuating their stooges in key journalistic positions to doctor articles to suit their purposes.

In the same issue of the Tribune over a picture, referring to the Smith riot, the headline says: THE POLICE QUELL DISORDER AT WEST SIDE RALLY, which is exactly the opposite of the truth.

Dear Leon:

I feel compelled to compliment you on your article "Who Dictates the Issuance of Our Money?" on the front page of this week's 'Broom'. Some day we hope you will trace the degradation and corruption of Nordic White Peoples beginning with the corruption and fall of Nordic Greece by the Phoenicians (Semites) and Assyrians (Semites) and finally by Semitic Rome. Irrespective of the Protocols of Zion, History shows the existence of this Nordic-Semitic struggle and of the eventual enslavement of Nordic White People.

Why the 'Shortage' of Lumber

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Halting the export of American lumber during the "critical housing shortage" is "the very serious responsibility" of the Truman administration, Sen William F. Knowland, California Republican charged in the Senate recently.

On another subject, he later told reporters he favored making public the government's policy on the sale of surplus American arms and ammunition abroad. Senator Knowland recently returned from an around-the-world inspection tour as a sub-committee member of the Senate's national defense committee.

"The difficult situation facing those who are interested in building homes is aggravated by the fact that for exported lumber the Administration has permitted to be charged an excess of $7.50 per thousand feet over the price which the producer can obtain from the domestic purchasers, Knowland said. He pointed out that "we can hardly blame the lumber producer for selling lumber to foreign purchasers" under those circumstances.

He said the Federal Government has authorized the exportation of 225,000,000 board feet of lumber during the first quarter of 1946.

Knowland told reporters he was "gathering information" on foreign sale of American arms and ammunition "and may speak on the subject in the Senate."

Texas Editors Lose Appeal in Contempt Case

PLAN TO TAKE 'FREE PRESS' ISSUE TO HIGH COURT

AUSTIN, Tex.—In a 2 to 1 decision, the Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the three day jail sentence imposed last August on three Corpus Christi newspaper men who had been held in contempt of a local court for publication of news stories and editorial comment.

Announcement of an immediate appeal to the United States Supreme court was made by Robert M. Jackson, editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, the paper involved in the litigation.

"We feel there is a grave question concerning freedom of the press involved here," Jackson said. "We are going to appeal it as far as we can."

CRITICIZED "RAW DEAL"

The newspaper had criticized as a "raw deal" and a "travesty on justice" a decision of County Judge Joe D. Browning in an eviction case involving a returned service man. A jury in the case twice refused to sign a verdict instructed by the judge but finally did so with an accompanying comment the verdict was rendered on order of the court "against the conscience of this jury."

Because of the Caller-Times' critical articles about the case, Judge Browning held in contempt of court the newspaper's publisher, Conway Craig; its managing editor, Bob McCracken, and a reporter, Tom Mulvany.

They said it was astonishing how rapidly and violently the Czechs, greatest admirers of Russia, had changed their minds about the Russians.

"Czechoslovakia was the country where Russian troops received the hottest welcome," they added. "Czechs hailed the Russians enthusiastically as liberators and friends. But now there isn't a single true Czech who would wish the Russians to remain, they said.

FRANKFUST, Germany.—The count in 1,330 townships of Bavaria, heaviest voting-province in elections held thru-cornered race in 1944.

Nye did not say whether he will seek the four year unexpired term of the late Sen. Moses (D.), who defeated him in 1944, or will run for the full term against Sen. Langer (R.), in November. Sen. Young (R.), an appointee of Gov. Aandahl, a Republican, has announced he will be a candidate for the short term in the election to be held on June 25, which is also primary day.

It is reported reliably that Nye will run for the four year term and that Sen. Langer, an old Non-Partisan leaguer, will support him. Langer thus would eliminate the threat of Nye's opposition in November. Nye and Langer long have been political foes, but it appears there is a good chance that the opposing factions will present a united front this year.

Mayor's Deputy Mobbed by Jews

CLEVELAND.—According to reliable reports of the riot at the Gerald Smith-Terminiello meeting here recently, the violence displayed by the Jew hoodlums took police, as well as the local "mothers" group under whose auspices the meeting was held, completely by surprise. Protection had been promised, but when the audience began to arrive only twelve policemen were on hand to control the howling mob. They were unable to protect the speakers and consequently not only was Father Terminiello severely manhandled, but also Mrs. Smith who, for the first time in all experiences with the lawless Jewish mobs throughout the country, suffered severe bodily injury from kicks and missiles.

After this, more protection was demanded and a dozen more policemen were sent, but not enough to prevent some 200 major and minor injuries to those who were trying to attend this peaceful meeting of American patriots. The highlight of the evening was when the chairman of the mayor's racial committee arrived in plain clothes, spick and span in brand new camel's hair overcoat. He approached the entrance boldly, all unaware of the danger, when the mob, mistaking him for one of Smith's followers, closed in and literally tore his overcoat off and otherwise messed him into a pitiful sight. Naturally this dignitary didn't like it and ordered the arrest of several of his assailants. As a result of this certain Jews tried to get this official dismissed, but in this effort did not gain the necessary official support.

Several well known and competent attorneys, as well as a number of civic organizations, are said to be earnestly interested in bringing the rioters to justice. Suits for personal injury and other damages will be brought against the city.

It is not possible to report the newspaper reaction to the scandalous Cleveland riot for the reason that at the time of the meeting all the newspapers were closed down by strikes.

The liberal Democrats polled 3,074 votes and the Communists 2,637.

More than 40 per cent of the Bavarian vote, however, appeared to be going to independent or "splinter" parties with a total of 100,790 ballots.

The elections were for municipal councilmen in communities between 5,000 and 20,000 population. Communities under 5,000 voted last Sunday.

American authorities estimated that 75 per cent of the 4,000,000 qualified non-Nazi voters trudged through the snow Sunday to cast ballots.

LIFE OF CHRIST

In the Days of Augustus

A Legendary Fragment Current Among Members of the Order of the "Men In White Clothing" and the Coptics—Time Placed in the Year 748 After the Building of the City of Rome, or Five Years Before Christ.

Abridged by OTOMAN ZAR-ADUSHT HA'NISH
All Rights Reserved to the Glory of Mazda and His Victorious Associates

The season was advancing rapidly and with it the intensity of heat and the humidity in the air, leaving the highways in the depth of dust and the hills and fields barren from the want of rain and insufficient attention to the system of irrigation, now that the Pharisees held sway over the lands and drove the larger portion of the population to the cities to earn money by begging from strangers or selling worthless goods to pilgrims, the revenues whereof went into the coffers of the church, while the fields were turned into pasture grounds for sheep, which offered a greater profit in tithes than did agriculture.

A small company, consisting of a woman and several male servants of exceptional physique, slowly moved along the highway toward the hills where the olive trees offered but little shade and the palm trees attempted to cast off the dust from their drooping branches. Suddenly the wanderers made a halt, not to shake the dust from their sandals or to sweep their garments that appeared as if they had been rolled in the dust, but to offer a refreshing drink to a beautiful young maiden, whose face betrayed the innocence of a maturing girl in her first teens, seated on a donkey that was covered with a saddle of royal purple. The garments of the girl pointed to an ancestry of considerable wealth, while the light green surplice showed her to be an orphan, and the laced wrist proved her to be the last of her lineage.*

After a short halt, the company continued on their journey toward the Zion hills, leaving the Far-off Country behind them as if enveloped in a cloud. The grade seemed to grow as the company slowly and with difficulty ascended the hillside, but once on the top of the eminence a beautiful view opened before them, revealing the splendor of the great city below and the mountains above with their numerous sturdy cedars and their young sprouts on the hillcrests, while the breeze of the sea filled the air with the spirit of resurrection, quickening the famished soul unto a life of rejuvenation.

Miryam was enraptured at the sight of a scene offering such grandeur and sublimity, so much so that she lost sight of the Palace beside her and noticed not the approach of light feet and the rustle of silken garments until a voice most tender and sweet pealed forth in mellow tones:

"Hail to thee, Miryam, and may peace come to thee upon this holy ground of Zacharia, for thou art blessed among womankind."

In an instant Miryam and Elizabeth, for it was she who addressed the former, lay in each other's arms weeping tears of joy.

*Last of her Lineage.—Means the only child and that child begotten by a brother of the mother's husband. The mother was barren up to the time of her husband's death, and in accordance with ancient belief neither of them could have life everlasting, as such is assured only thru the perpetuity of offspring; parents continue to live in the minds of the children. According to custom the brothers of the husband must raise a family unto the widow to assure resurrection and perpetuity of lineage.

Far-off Country.—It was customary to call the capital, or the city of authority and government, the Far-off Country. In this case it would be Jerusalem. In the story of the Prodigal Son we find he went to the far-country, which means to a big city, where he squandered his substance.

(Conclusion)

In the light of common sense these recent discoveries in feeding do not appear surprising. James Purcell, M. D., of America, says:

"Biologically there is profound difference in the cell construction of the proteins in milks. In cow's milk the cells are constructed to produce rapid growth of coarse texture; cell consciousness and intelligence are of slow vibration and short lived. In human milk the cells are constructed to build fine texture, of slow growth, with high cell consciousness, vibration and long life. It is rather difficult to build mahogany tables from hemlock, or grow normal human beings from materials intended to produce cows."

The use of milk and its derivatives appear to have a marked connexion with cancer incidence. Dr. J. L. Halberg states: "It is found that animal proteins are the main cause of cancer. When animal proteins are withdrawn from the system the environment in which cancer thrives is destroyed." This simple truth appears to elude the thousands of research workers throughout the world today. Cancer is rife only among the meat-eaters and the milk drinkers; it is one of the rarest of diseases elsewhere. Dr. A. E. Blackburn, who has travelled round the world four times studying the incidence of certain malignant diseases in native peoples, concludes: "If we take the difference between a diet of vegetable and animal fat, there is a great difference in the incidence of malignant disease." Dr. Blackburn gives ample statistics to prove his statement.

The lowest known cancer death-rate at present is that of Ceylon where the national cow gives coconut milk. The countries that head the list are New Zealand, Switzerland and Scotland—the countries where the consumption of dairy produce is highest. Growing cancer is characterized by abnormal quantities of lactic acid, and it is common knowledge that the milk glands are more susceptible to the advance of cancer than any other part of the body. Dr. George Black, of Torquay, wrote: "In a diet of fruit, grains, nuts, and vegetables, sufferers from cancer have the means in their own hands of largely, if not entirely ridding themselves of the pain accompanying this terrible disease. This I have proved again and again in my own experience, and to me in the treatment of this disease a brighter chapter has opened since I knew the value of such a diet." It naturally follows that the diet which brings such improvement is the diet likely to prevent the disease becoming established. Is then, the present praise of milk by the authorities likely to help in combating this scourge, which, according to Dr. Bircher-Benner is destined cruelly to destroy five millions of the people now living in this country alone?

Thus it appears that not only for reasons associated with morality, but also for reasons of personal safety, milk and its derivatives—cheese, cream and butter, should not be used. Their dangers far outweigh their advantages. On a big scale a vegetarian diet would be so much cheaper and economical in the use of land that a sufficiently large animal population could be kept purely to maintain soil fertility. Such animals could be allowed to regain their lost health by living natural lives, and they could be allowed to die natural deaths. It is doubtful, however, whether such an arrangement would be called for. Present large scale experiments in composting sewage sludge with straw have proved that this product is equal to farmyard manure. After all, the Chinese kept their country fertile for 4,000 years by using this method.

FRED WRITES A POSTSCRIPT

As an after thought not given at the meeting, I would like to add that there are some who believe that the complete vegetarian diet in this modern civilization tends to unbalance the mind, or in truer terms, causes the mind to be abnormal. What is normal? but the common medicos term. This indication may be by far a more intelligent response to the dietetic change, which is but a higher step in evolution. Personally, I can say that I do not have any observable abnormal tendency, although I have been off dairy products for several months completely at present. Those who contend that such a condition is produced can substantiate it only by hearsay, since I do not know of any of these contenders of having tried the change. Even so, how can a criminal act be righteously justified merely because one cannot control the effects of following principle? By further intelligent reasoning and breathing, this effect can be mastered, if in reality it exists at all. The human mind is all powerful and should never despair when viewing temporary situations. Who is going to make the change at all if all are licked before they start?

Christ's Church of the Golden Rule

To the Editor of The Broom:

The following detailed explanation of my recent action in leaving the Stratford Hotel Dining Room Project, I believe will present ample justification.

During the approximate six months of my service there I have witnessed all sorts of malpractice in the conduct of the business and the treatment of faithful co-workers. These conditions have been steadily gaining momentum until there is no semblance of an Organization practicing noble principles or displaying lofty ideals. Instead it appears that despotism, regimentation, exploitation, oppression and inequality is more prevalent here than in outside industry. Because I am an idealist, I have continued on in the manner that we have been instructed hoping that these conditions would eventually right themselves. Now after sufficient trial I am convinced that some other action must be taken. I want to determine if we are sincerely an Organization as we have represented ourselves or if we are merely another group practicing the same policies we have condemned elsewhere. To use some of our own phraseology—evil brought to light will destroy itself—that is my only motive in this action, to expose this evil.

Waitresses were never told to question the quality of the food they were to serve. Guests were to be fed "soup, grass and starch and they would go away thinking they were well fed." This was told to me personally as well as to others by Mr. Morrison. We were ordered by Mrs. Jacobson to serve rotten sausage which had molded until it had hair on it; it was soaked in vinegar then rinsed and sold out. Steaks I personally prepared sent out, that smelled so bad it would turn one's stomach. Often those steaks came back with complaints. Two different people threatened to report us to the Health Department and when I gave the report to Mr. Morrison he said, "There's nothing wrong with that meat."

Mr. Morrison and Mrs. Jacobson always gave conflicting instruction. Mr. Morrison would tell me how to serve or prepare then when he was not there Mrs. Jacobson would snap, "He is crazy do as I say and pay no attention to him." When he returned I would be given instruction to ignore her and do as he said.

The girls in the Dining Room were never given any real instructions. They were given one way to do a thing today and then in a week or so, they were given different instructions on the same thing.

On Sundays all school children went on the job at two o'clock and worked until nine without a chance for food or rest. This was never remedied. Each time that it was taken up with Mr. Morrison we were given the excuse that there was no need for remedying it.

We always operated one hand short every day except Saturday and Sunday in both the kitchen and dining room in order for every one to have a day off. That is the reason we asked to be allowed to close one day a week so every one could have their day off at one time; then in case of illness, or a necessary absence we would not be crippled too badly.

At no time in the kitchen was co-operation allowed between the co-workers. If any one tried to help another, we were breaking Mr. Morrison's schedule and not following instructions or were out of our station.

Mr. Morrison has upheld the cook in most all cases of tyranny against the co-workers. We have all been in some manner accused of stealing, cheating and lying. It is very hot and stuffy in both the kitchen and dining room and the co-workers have been constantly refused a dish of ice cream while Mrs. Jacobson habitually ate a soup bowl full, a quantity equal to four or five dishes any one else would eat.

Under the present set up we will never be able to maintain and operate our own business! No instructions have been definite enough for us to learn anything about the hotel or dining room.

Mr. Morrison has come into the Hotel dining room on four or five occasions under the influence of alcohol. Thanksgiving Day he was slightly inebriated. He is usually in a very cheerful mood when drinking altho I have heard him lose his temper when sober and say damn or damn it. When Mrs. Graham called him on the telephone Sunday—2-11-45—and asked him to come to the Project and see if he could straighten out the situation he said, "I am sick and tired of the whole mess and you can close the doors for all I care but don't tell anybody I said to because I am not telling you to, and by God I am sick of the whole Damn mess. I have got a belly full and when I see the chief I am going to ask him to clean out this whole bunch and get me a new crew."

At no time since I have been at the Stratford Hotel have I seen the Golden Rule practiced by either Mr. Bramer or Mr. Morrison. There has always been a game of favoritism and political intrigue played there.

I am enclosing a statement from one of our own Doctors who has been treating a co-worker from the Stratford who was pointed out to me by Mr. Bramer as being a fake and a put on, who would give me trouble on every turn in the dining room. I found her to be one of the many who was a hard worker and was always congenial, never complaining up until she collapsed two days before this statement was given to me. I found her at two different times unconscious where she had dropped over her books while working in the dining room. I am aware that I disobeyed instructions in going to the Doctor and asking for this written statement, but I only went after the Doctor had ordered her to bed and Mr. Bramer came to me again telling me how she was just putting on to get out of work.

I contend that we (the co-workers) have advanced beyond our teachers (Mr. Morrison and Mrs. Jacobson) except in some cold-blooded business methods that are not acceptable to us, and which produce the most un-Christ-like reflections. There is a complete lack of leadership on this Project.

I conclude this statement with a quotation from a famous document 'But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government and to provide new guards for their future security.'

Anti-Vivisection Bill Hearings

WASHINGTON,— ANTI-VIVISECTION organizations throughout the East have begun marshalling testimony for congressional committee hearings which started February 28 on the Lemke bill prohibiting medical and surgical experimentations on dogs in the District of Columbia.

Congress cannot legislate for the states on such matters, but makes the local laws for the national capital.

Announcement that committee hearings have been granted is a guarantee that for the first time in its long history the humanitarian measures will reach the floor of the House for debate.

That means in turn that for the first time there will be a complete and public exposition in the National Legislature of the tremendous array of arguments that true medical science has long since passed the need of experimenting in cruel torture of animals.

On the theory that the task of overcoming reactionary medical practices is so difficult that progress must be made a step at a time, the district bill is confined to dogs and comes up as a test case.

Federal City

Lincoln Republicans and Jefferson Democrats Must Unite to Save Our Republic—Oust Joe Martin

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (Special).—Lincoln said that if America is ever destroyed, it will come from internal decay, not outside attack. Washington and Franklin had the same idea, expressed a little differently.

Washington and Franklin feared that (1) politics, (2) despotism after usurpation, and (3) the corruption of the people, would, or might, bring our republic to a creaking stop. All three evils are active today as never before.

Political patronage did not come in until the time of Jackson, who cultivated it. Lincoln believed that the terrible greed and rapacity of "office seekers" would in time destroy us. It is doubtful if there were as many as 5,000 Federal employees in Lincoln's administration. What would he say now?

Today the wicked New Deal has put more than THREE MILLION job-holders on the public pay roll—undoubtedly to swing the elections its way. This roll, if kept up, will destroy us financially and politically.

Washington pictured "foreign influence" as the most baneful foe of republican government. The Roosevelt socialist despotism has had more "foreign influences" at work, like termites, within the internal and external structures of the ship of state, THAN ALL OTHER ADMINISTRATIONS PUT TOGETHER.

The New Dealers honeycombed all branches of the government, including the army, with left-wing socialists and Reds of varying hues.

George Rothwell Brown, brilliant writer for the Hearst chain, wrote on the 22nd:

"For weeks there has been virtual WARFARE within the President's inner circle of White House cronies over economic questions. . . . and nation-wide strikes.

The President's temporizing, after unnecessarily long delay, has retarded the nation's industrial recovery.

"The Administration's foreign policy has been characterized by an amateurish ineptitude which has reduced our international relations to a deplorable state, especially with Russia," said Mr. Brown.

Regarding the UNO in London, John Foster Dulles reported that the Administration (and the Senate) failed to outline any sort of a policy or plan for the American delegation to adhere to. This undoubtedly weakened their morale and also their influence in the assembly.

In confirmation of what I have written from time to time, Mr. Brown makes the following "The Communist influence within the very Government in Washington remains unbroken, and virtually unchallenged except for a few faint and ineffectual voices in the House of Representatives."

It is a pitiful and tragic fact that, outside of two or three newspaper chains, the Hearst-Patterson-McCormick group, the Tulsa Tribune, and two or three Southern and Mid-Western papers, the daily press of America appears to be strangely cowed by the Communist influence.

The Northern and Western Republicans in Congress have sometimes acted with Southern conservatives, but they have shown amazing stupidity in not ABANDONING the traitorous "FEPC" and forming a political coalition with the Southerners.

In 1940 I wrote, "Jeffersonian Democrats and Lincoln Republicans have absolutely coalesced in principle; let them unite at the ballot box to free the American people from the slavery of New Deal National Socialism."

I put a copy of this in every seat (both delegates and alternates) in the G. O. P. Convention at Philadelphia, along with a printed question—"WILL IT BE WILLKIE AND WAR VERSUS ROOSEVELT AND RUIN?"

I was in that convention, and I saw the Reds from the East Side of New York manipulate the sheep, and name the lifelong socialist Willkie, whom I then supported as the lesser of the two evils.

I am firmly of the opinion that the House Republicans should replace the weak Joe Martin as minority leader with a fighter like Hoffman of Michigan or Dewey Short of Missouri. We must fight the Reds, or go under.

TRUMAN'S BEST APPOINTMENT—GARDNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Truman's appointment of Ex-Governor O. Max Gardner of North Carolina as Undersecretary of the Treasury appears to be the best he has yet made.

Unlike the average Newdeal appointee, Governor Gardner is a great lawyer and a successful business man—a cotton manufacturer. He is NOT a Newdealer—not a leftwinger—not a spendthrift. He is the very sort of a man that our Treasury Department has needed for more than twelve years.

He was elected governor of North Carolina when F. D. Roosevelt was elected governor of New York. But UNLIKE ROOSEVELT or any other governor, when the depression descended upon the nation, Governor Gardner OBTAINED A REDUCTION OF HIS SALARY. Moreover, he cut out every useless expense and economized to balance the budget.

There were some strikes and violence, but Governor Gardner, unlike Murphy of Michigan, maintained law and order with troops.

When his term had expired in 1933 and he went to Washington to practice law, he resigned his post as Democratic Committeeman, so there might be no suspicion of his using his office to affect his practice. He is a man of the highest integrity, and one of the nation's greatest orators.

The ex-governor became one of the great corporation lawyers at the nation's capital and made a fortune in the twelve years that have elapsed.

He was a cotton mill executive before he became governor and his business ability has made everything he touched a success.

But he has a job on his hands this time. He will serve honorably, but if it will be a miracle if he can influence the most profligate and wasteful administration in world history to reverse its ruinous policy of extravagance and persistent inflation.

Every patriotic American will pray for his success!

Mr. Smith Comes To Chicago

By ELLIS O. JONES

CHICAGO.—Unrestrained violence against life and property marked the effort of a riotous mob of several thousand hoodlums to break up a meeting here, Feb. 7, at which Gerald L. K. Smith, Rev. Father Arthur W. Terminiello and Frederick Kister, head of the "Christian Veterans of America" which sponsored the meeting, were the principal speakers. The hall was filled to its capacity of about 400, and several times that number were turned away.

For several hours this mob howled and raged outside the hall while the police did nothing effective to stop it, altho many police were in evidence. The rioters kicked, beat and otherwise manhandled those trying to get into the hall. They smashed a dozen or more large windows, battered at the doors both back and front, wrecked autos, threw bottles and other missiles helter-skelter. A car hired by Smith was damaged to the amount of $350.

Those readers who have been following the brave efforts of Mr. Smith and his associates to become the spearhead of the re-establishment of free speech and free assembly know the general pattern of these rioting "picketers." Mr. Smith says there have been larger mobs, notably in Los Angeles, but that the one here was by far the most vicious and destructive. Miss Legant, Mr. Smith's secretary, says that never before was she so terrified and fearful of personal harm.

The Chicago riot, which promises to become famous in the annals of the fight for free speech and the preservation of American constitutional liberties, was, like all the others, incited mainly by Jews. According to the newspapers the Jewish veterans joined with left-wing Communist groups. That the Jews played the chief role is not only admitted but boastfully condoned by the Jewish Sentinel, Chicago, Ill., edited by one Fishbein, and generally conceded to be the most malign and blood-thirsty of all lying and hate-mongering American Jewish press. Prominent in the riot conspiracy was one Ira Latimer, head of the Civil Liberties group here, an offshoot of the American Civil Liberties Union who have notably failed under the Roosevelt administration to live up to their advertised principles. On behalf of this so-called "Civil Liberties" group, Latimer requested a permit to hold a meeting outside the hall while the Smith meeting was going on. This palpable effort to give the riot a semblance of legality was denied by the police authorities. And in this connection, it should be noted that the only disorder inside the hall during the meeting was created by this same Ira Latimer who, when Smith was commenting on our giving away hard-won bases in the Pacific, rose and yelled: "You're a god-damned liar." He was ejected by the police, but not arrested.

It is known that the riot was carefully and systematically planned and organized over a period of several weeks prior to the meeting. Every left-wing and known fellow-traveler list was circulated under three-cent postage and financed by the Anti-Defamation League, a subsidiary of the B'nai B'rith. The rioters were told that they need have no fear of the consequences of their misdeeds, that the Jews had friends in high places to protect them even if the police made any arrests. This report was confirmed when, after the police had arrested some 17 of the most flagrant marauders, two Jewish police court judges, named Heller and Caplan, held court session around midnight and not only released the arrested rioters on their own recognizance, but issued warrants for the arrest of Smith, Terminiello and Kister, on the charge of "disorderly conduct" and "inciting to riot". These were not released on their own recognizance, but were required to put up a heavy bond. Can anything more absurd than that action of this new form of "kikearoo" court be imagined!

No newspaper in Chicago dealt adequately with the event, while the Tribune, much to the surprise and chagrin of its many friends published an editorial blaming those who were attacked more viciously than the attackers, alluding to the speakers as "disreputable" and to the audience as "feeble-minded." This editorial is known to have been written by Leon Stolz, son of a rabbi and chief editorial writer for this paper. The Sun, Chicago edition of the notorious PM, New York, usually referred to as the uptown edition of the Communist Daily Worker, felt it necessary to print a mild editorial denunciation of the riot, saying they were "playing Gerald's game." This opinion is widely held here among Jews and Gentiles alike. It is generally felt here among all classes that the Jews characteristically have overplayed their hand and, by abandoning their usual "undercover" tactics, have brought the Jewish question out into the open to the great detriment of the Jewish gangster leaders who are imposing, not only upon the complacent Gentiles, but also upon the ignorant and helpless rank-and-file of their own co-religionists and co-racists.

Smith, Terminiello and Kister are ably represented by Attys. Albert W. Dilling and Maximilian St. George, both of whom did fine work in the so-called 8-months long "sedition" trial during which they learned all the bag of tricks of the Jewish-Communist-Nudeal conspirators. They have demanded jury trial and promise a fight to the bitter end. The Jewish Sentinel has promised that Smith shall never be allowed to speak in a hall in Chicago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling was one of those personally attacked at the meeting. Her version and further details of the outrage will be given in her March Bulletin, address: Elizabeth Dilling, 8 So. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.

Enemies of Liberty and Decency

From The Chicago TRIBUNE

If Gerald L. K. Smith is of any use to any one in this country it is to the Communists, who find him a valuable agent in stirring up the race hatreds and suspicions that they are as eager as he is to exploit.

Smith and two equally disreputable characters addressed a meeting on the west side last Thursday night. The members of the audience, admitted by ticket, came to have their bigotry confirmed, a task which the three speakers were delighted to undertake.

Outside the hall a mob twice as large as the audience inside gathered in the guise of a picket line. The tactics of the mob, the epithets used, and the presence of Ira Latimer, secretary of the discredited Chicago Civil Liberties committee, who is a Communist stooge, indicated that the Communist party was stage managing the affair.

Persons entering the hall were spat upon and reviled. Rocks, bottles, and stink bombs were thrown at windows and at police guarding the building. Older men started assaults on police and then slipped quickly away to let rash youngsters carry on the fight. That is typical of Communist street fighting technique—let the suckers take the clubbing.

Smith and his two companions were subsequently arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and additional charges of inciting to riot were placed against the companions. Whether their statements at the meeting can be so construed is well worth judicial determination. The speakers, tho entitled to free speech, must also answer if they abuse it.

It is a plain fact, however, that such rioting as actually took place was fomented outside the hall, not inside it. Seventeen persons were arrested for alleged acts of violence. Municipal Judges Samuel Heller and Oscar Caplan organized an impromptu court in the Desplaines st. police station and arranged for the prisoners' release, pending trial.

The conduct of these judges was both unjudicial and injudicious. Caplan, in particular, entered the police station as an avowed partisan of the rioters, and then proceeded to deal with their cases.

Smith's companions made statements calculated to incite hatred of Jews. Many of the members of the mob, including some of those arrested, were Jews. They did nothing to aid their people by their conduct. Smith and his ilk are held in contempt by the vast majority of Chicago citizens. His converts are few and feeble minded. By attacking him and them, the members of the mob merely showed themselves to be the same sort of enemies of American liberty and decency that Smith is, and that the Communists, who arranged the brawl, are.

J. Edgar Hoover recognizes Communism as treason. He considers American Youth for Democracy (AYD) one of the most dangerous revolutionary outfits in America. About the same time that Mr. Hoover exposed the successor to the Young Communist League in a speech in New York City, the Frank Sinatra family, Ingrid Bergman, No. 1 movie star, and other Hollywood satellites, participated in an AYD banquet at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. The Committee for the Investigation of Un-American Activities has been given a confidential memorandum concerning the participation of Hollywood stars in the promotion of Communist revolutionary enterprises.
